

A YEAR AMONGST THE PERSIANS

A Year Amongst the Persians: impressions as to the life, character, and thought of the people of Persia, received during twelve month's residence in that country in the years 1887-8

by Edward Granville Browne (1862-1926)

In A Year Amongst the Persians (1893), British orientalist Edward Granville Browne wrote a sympathetic portrayal of a Persian society which few Westerners has ever seen, including a frank account of the effects of opium. The book did not attract the attention it deserved at the time of its initial publication, but after his death in 1926 it was reprinted and became a classis in English travel literature.
